

Art of the Americas in the Classroom: Celebrating
Student Diversity to Make Art, Reading, and Social Studies Meaningful

Wednesday, June 22 &
Thursday, June 23, 2022
1:00 PM - 4:00 PM

in this professional development workshop for K-12 teachers, participants will be encouraged to develop open-minded thinking with the ability to consider alternative methodologies to address social-emotional learning through the visual arts process-based. Through the methodologies presented through various genres, mediums, and processes, participants will effectively express artistic concepts in concrete form using techniques and methods in mindfulness to create an intended result, while considering the process of art-making as a personal journey and its impact in the larger social context.

For more information, contact ldudley@fiu.edu.

Image source: Tecún Umán: Stories of Guatemalan Art by Rebecca Hinson.

Rebecca Hinson is the author of 48 multicultural art books for children. A graduate of Duke University and the Académie de la Grande Chaumière, she leads workshops on teaching literacy through multicultural art.

In partnership with Miami-Dade County Public Schools, Division of Academics, Visual & Performing Arts. Made possible with support from LACC's US Department of Education Title VI Grant.